

► About this newspaper

► Article view

◀ List of search results ▶

PORT ALBERT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Methodist Quarterly Meeting,

The usual quarterly meeting of the Port Albert Methodist Church was held on Monday, October 13th, in the afternoon and evening. The revenue for the quarter more than met the 5 expenses. The reports of the Sunday School and Christian Endeavour showed that matters were in a highly satisfactory condition. Mr Strand, Minister, was unanimously asked to remain in the Circuit for another year. The evening meeting was well attended, and a very interesting programme was rendered. The Rev Jory presided, That Hall After months of patient waiting on the part of the public, and sundry decidedly interesting—if not approaching to exciting—meetings on the part of Shareholders and Trustees, a decided stop has been taken by those interested in building the Hall on a more central site. At a meeting of Subscribers to the new site, held in the Druid's Lodge room, it was decided to commence building without further delay. It was also decided to notify the Shareholders of the Old Hall Association, of this intention, so that the responsibility of building a second Hall on the old site would rest entirely upon their shoulders. A Building Committee was set up. to report at next meeting of Subscribers to be held on October 30th. Concert. A concert to raise funds to clear the small debt upon the new piano installed in the Druid Lodge room, will be held in that building on Friday November 7th. The management have engaged the services of Mr T. Harris, Auckland's well-known elocutionist and entertainer. The Progress of Druidism. An event which marks an epoch in the progress of the Star of Albertland Druid Lodge, was the opening of the new Lodge room on Wednesday last. Through the destruction of the Hall the Druids lost a considerable amount of property. In the interim, the meetings have been held in the Church kitchen. Mr L. P. Becroft, in his address, congratulated the young people of the district on the magnificent success of their efforts in building a room such as the present building. Mr T. Hartnell effusively pronounced the advantages of Druidism, and fruitum. A very interesting programme was rendered by members and friends. The proceedings concluded with a short dance, which was well attended. Croquet and Tennis are now in full swing. Enthusiasts of either game are hopeful of a more successful season than last—both financially and otherwise.

Croquet match, 2004.2.96.476

Close

Home ▶

 Croquet match; 2004.2.96.476

From Albertland and Districts Museum Inc

Name/Title
Croquet match

About this object
Croquet match in the grounds of Minniesdale House, Wharehine, using equipment brought to NZ by the Brookes family in the 1860's

Place Made
New Zealand

Collection
Photograph from the WH (Harold) Marsh collection

Object Type
Photograph

Object number
2004.2.96.476